make kindness the norm.

A year-long journey of kindness, compassion, and self-care designed specifically for the workplace.
Let me tell you something you may not already know:
You are one incredible person.

Just think about it. You’ve been through a LOT over the last couple of years. I mean... just... wow. But, look at you. You’re still here. You’re one resilient individual. I’m proud of you.

It’s been a long strange trip for us here at The Random Acts of Kindness Foundation as well. We’ve spent many months working harder than ever to make kindness the norm during the most challenging of times. We could not have done any of it without YOU. You are the fuel that keeps this world kind, caring and compassionate. I know, sometimes it may not feel that way, but when you scratch beneath the surface of the negativity and conflict we see around us, it’s clear that human beings are good. And, you’re one of them!

The work to create a kinder world never ends. There is no limit on the amount of goodness we can put into the world. So, what are you going to do in 2022 to make kindness the norm?

Your friend,

Brooke Jones
Vice President
“Forever – is composed of nows”
Emily Dickinson

This quote by Emily Dickinson is profound. If we think about forever as something in the future, then it can never be found. Instead, know that forever is only an idea. When we reach it, it is the present. We can only ever experience the now, so we must make each “now” count.

This year, make the effort to create a meaningful “now” each day with kindness. Work may feel like it is something that happens in between our “real life”, but it can give us purpose, comfort, connection, and support. Make the effort to really lean in this year and make your work matter to yourself and your colleagues.
BE MINDFUL.
Mindfulness

Mindfulness means maintaining a moment-by-moment awareness of our thoughts, feelings, bodily sensations, and surrounding environment. Mindfulness involves acceptance, meaning that we pay attention to our thoughts and feelings without judging them; without believing, for instance, that there’s a “right” or “wrong” way to think or feel in a given moment. When we practice mindfulness, our thoughts tune in to what we’re sensing in the present moment rather than rehashing the past or imagining the future.

Paying attention and giving time to what you love is an act of self-care mixed with awareness and love. We’ve all heard the phrase you can’t pour from an empty cup, but are not often provided permission or direction on how to keep our own cups full.

This month we encourage you to fill your cup and create a list of things you enjoy. Give yourself permission to do the things that make you happy.

Happiness can’t be contained! When someone is self-aware and practices self-love, they can’t help but share their joy with others.

RAK’s Kindness in the Workplace action planning guide includes seven key ingredients that make for a positive and kind culture where people want to show up and do their best.
SHAPE YOUR ENVIRONMENT.
CARING FOR THE ENVIRONMENT

BE GENTLE WITH THE EARTH. — DALAI LAMA

We do not inherit the earth from our ancestors; we borrow it from our children. Many of us are familiar with this proverb, but what meaning do each of us give to it? The easiest way for each of us to live within this “motto” is to think of those who will come after us and intentionally choose not to make a mess in any of our environments. If it is possible, we should make any area we can better for those who follow in our footsteps. This concept can be applied to our natural environments, as well as our school, work, and home environments, along with any area we spend time where others will eventually follow.

Kindness Ideas to help Make Kindness the Norm.
DO WHAT YOU SAY.
INTEGRITY

Integrity is the foundation of trust and confidence. Doing what you say builds an environment of respect and mutual appreciation. Employees are the biggest asset of any organization and it’s important that leaders recognize their value.

When leaders provide a space for employees to feel heard, respected, and safe, they not only encourage individuals to do their best, but provide a place for everyone to feel valued and trusted.

CHOOSING COURAGE OVER COMFORT; CHOOSING WHAT IS RIGHT OVER FAST, FUN OR EASY; AND CHOOSING TO PRACTICE OUR VALUES RATHER THAN JUST PROFESSING THEM. —BRENÉ BROWN

MORE DIVERSE THAN EVER!
WE COULD LEARN A LOT FROM CRAYONS; SOME ARE SHARP, SOME ARE PRETTY, SOME ARE DULL, WHILE OTHERS BRIGHT, SOME HAVE WEIRD NAMES, BUT THEY ALL HAVE LEARNED TO LIVE TOGETHER IN THE SAME BOX. —ROBERT FULGHUM

Imagine a place where everyone feels welcome and can be themselves no matter their shape, size, or color. It’s not impossible, but it takes a lot of intention.

However, intentional changes toward creating a more inclusive workplace can lead to powerful cultural shifts in organizations: It creates a safe space so everyone can bring their whole self to work, no longer needing to censor or hide parts of themselves.

This leads to greater productivity, creativity, and connection with colleagues and your organizational purpose.”

—Inclusion Consultant Gina Battye

RAKtivists are the heroes of our organization. They live and breathe kindness, share knowledge and lead by example.
LEAN ON ME...
AND EACH OTHER.
There are many ways to improve your well-being and chances of living longer, such as exercising more or eating better. But did you know that maintaining meaningful relationships also plays an important role in health, happiness, and longevity?

A research study by Harvard, conducted over a period of 80 years, proves that human connections and healthy relationships are the number one and two drivers of longevity, respectively.

—Dr. Robert Waldinger, a psychiatrist with Harvard-affiliated Massachusetts General Hospital.

TOO OFTEN WE UNDERESTIMATE THE POWER OF A TOUCH, A SMILE, A KIND WORD, A LISTENING EAR, AN HONEST COMPLIMENT, OR THE SMALLEST ACT OF CARING, ALL OF WHICH HAVE THE POTENTIAL TO TURN A LIFE AROUND. —LEO BUSCAGLIA

No one wants to work in an environment that is stressful or has too serious a mindset. Employees who are allowed to venture out, work together with other co-workers, and wander throughout their workplace to see what other things are going on will allow for ideas and inspiration to flow freely.

Ideas to consider:
- Create a fun team environment.
- Spice up your office décor.
- Take risks and be okay with failure.
- Allow flexible work schedules.
- Provide a space for knowledge sharing.

If you don’t celebrate success it won’t celebrate you. — Julian Hall

There is ALWAYS something to celebrate. It doesn’t mean you have to throw a party and buy cake and balloons (although, cake is always good). It means acknowledging something good that happened and celebrating it!

This month, celebrate all the good things that happen at work, even the stuff that seems silly and minor.

Celebration is such an important way to let people know that the work they do matters!

Your challenge (if you choose to accept it) is to complete a series of kindness activities to fill in 60 ‘hearts’.
SO MUCH GOODNESS IN OUR LIVES.
AS WE EXPRESS OUR GRATITUDE, WE MUST NEVER FORGET THAT THE HIGHEST APPRECIATION IS NOT TO UTTER WORDS, BUT TO LIVE BY THEM. —JOHN F. KENNEDY

WORLD KINDNESS DAY

Celebrate World Kindness Day!

- 30 Start a gratitude jar today. Put a note in every day with something you feel grateful for. Read them at the end of the month!
- 31 Tell a co-worker how much you appreciate their support.
- 1 Bring a favorite treat to work to share with everyone.
- 2 Leave positive sticky notes around your workplace.
- 3 Buy a gratitude journal for a friend who could use a boost.
- 4 Go for a gratitude walk; as you walk, notice the things that matter to you.
- 5 Wake up early and enjoy the sunrise.

6 Say “thank you” and make eye contact with a service worker. Smile!

- 7 Write a handwritten gratitude letter to someone. Mail it, or better yet, read it to them in person.
- 8 Show your body some gratitude by eating a healthy meal today.
- 9 Let your colleagues know that you’re thankful for all the hard work.
- 10 Leave a positive review online for a local business.
- 11 Give a little extra love to your pet(s) today.
- 12 Plant a “gratitude garden” with flowers/food that remind you of things or people for which you are grateful.

World Kindness Day!

- 13 Say a silent thank you when you wake up this morning for your health and all that you have.
- 14 Show your body how grateful you are by drinking lots of water today!
- 15 Create a gratitude wall in the break room. Encourage people to post a positive sticky note about someone else.
- 16 Show the “behind the scenes” workers that you are grateful for them: leave a card signed by the staff along with flowers or a gift card.
- 17 Tune in to all the wonderful things happening around you.
- 18 Show the planet how grateful you are by reducing waste, drinking from a reusable bottle, and driving less.

20 Create a gratitude collage and hang it in an area where you’ll see it regularly.

- 21 Print a favorite photo of someone for whom you are grateful and put it in a frame. Place it somewhere you see it regularly.
- 22 Put on your favorite piece of clothing to make you feel good today.
- 23 Eat a light meal today and savor each bite.
- 24 Share today with family and/or friends; tell them all how grateful you are for the things they bring to your life.
- 25 Spend today enjoying a quiet time to reflect on your joy.
- 26 Paint rocks with positive words and pictures. Leave them in random gardens.

27 Go for a gratitude walk; as you walk, notice the things that matter to you.

- 28 Wake up early and enjoy the sunrise.
- 29 Sit outside and enjoy the sunset.
- 30 Finish this month with one last note of gratitude for your gratitude jar.

Gratitude is key to making our lives more fulfilling and happy. When we express gratitude—whether silently to ourselves or publicly to another person—it reminds us how much we have in our lives and how much we can give to others.

This month, focus on all the things for which you are grateful and offer thanks to those who have helped you get to where you are in your life.
LOOK BACK, BY LOOKING FORWARD.
Forgive a past transgression with someone you care about. Consider what your part was in the conflict.

Take a deep breath and set an intention for the day.

Be honest with others about how you’re feeling: good, bad or indifferent.

After a meeting, reflect on what was shared by others. Offer your help or support to someone who is working on a project and not feeling supported.

Do something today that you loved to do as a child.

Thank people for their valuable input and ideas.

Look around the room and take note of what brings you joy. Remove things that don’t.

When you’re feeling down, reflect on everything good that’s happening in your world.

As you sit down for a meal, reflect on the people/animals/workers who made it all happen.

Take time to be in nature today.

Write a positive review of a local business after a good meal or service.

Start a new book you’ve been wanting to read.

Reflect on someone who has made you feel confident. Let them know that you appreciate their support.

Be curious about what role you play in a conflict. Consider one change you can make to create a better situation.

If you know how to meditate, do it today. If you don’t know how, look up a simple meditation and try it!

Spend this evening reflecting on all the amazing things in your life.

Unplug completely today and enjoy the day.

Tell someone how happy they make you.

While you’re doing a chore today, be mindful. Remember how even doing chores are important to your wellbeing!

Spend today listing 10 things for which you are grateful.

Clean out your closet and donate to a local charity.

Close out the year by making some realistic and optimistic goals for next year.

Spend today reflecting on everything you’ve done and learned this past year. Celebrate all of your accomplishments!

As the end of the year approaches, spend this month reflecting on everything that happened this year. Reflection can happen in a short moment or over a period of time.

When something good happens or when you’re facing challenges, take the time to reflect on how the experience made you feel and what lessons were learned.

This month we are focusing on Gratitude. Although this is technically a sub-concept of Caring, we chose to dedicate an entire month on it given our current needs as a community.
make kindness the norm.
